continuity, business reporting, network infrastructure improvements, and IT customer support improvements.

King has extensive experience in “all things ERP”—from selection and implementation to support.

"Bringing Darrick on board adds a fresh perspective to our team," said Judy Eck, CEO of FDC, "Together, we will plan and execute a technology strategy that will lead us into a future filled with even more collaboration, growth, and success."

Former FDC Vice President of IT, Andrew Nussel, accepted the new position of Vice President of Costing and Analytics. He will be responsible for managing FDC and Eastex's inventory and gross margin position, providing strong support to our teams by ensuring the accuracy of information communicated to internal and external customers and entered into the systems of record.

Nussel has been with FDC since 1995. His responsibilities have spanned many areas of the business including purchasing, materials management, and IT. His knowledge of the FDC business will be invaluable in the new role.
